

Book review in March 2006 issue of

BBC

THE WORLD'S FIRST ASTRONOMY
MAGAZINE AND CD PACKAGE

Sky at Night

On To Mars 2: Exploring And Settling A New World

Ed. Frank Crossman
and Robert Zubrin

Apogee Books

£14.95

264 pages ► Softback with CD-ROM

► A technical look at the challenges of a crewed mission to Mars.

Robert Zubrin founded The Mars Society in 1998, and it has worked ever since to define a human mission to Mars. On To Mars 2 is the society's second compilation of briefing papers on subjects ranging from space greenhouses, in-situ fuel manufacturing, human life support, and the dozens of other elements required for a successful project. Visual treats are rare, but the CD includes a simulated Mars base that Zubrin and his colleagues tested on Earth. Is the book any good? We'll find out in 30 years.

“Is the book
any good?
We'll find out
in 30 years.”

*Piers Bizony is a spaceflight
author and broadcaster*

www.apogeebooks.com
Phone 905 637 5737